Want to change the low share of women in tech events?

Tech - Cofounder wanted!

Who we are

Speakerspace is an online platform enabling event organizers to find public speakers on every topic for every event. "We could not find a female speaker" will be an excuse of the past. Speakerspace is a young start-up based in New York, Copenhagen, and Berlin.

What we offer

- A passionate, highly motivated and academically diverse team of go-getters and problem-solvers
- The possibility to realize your own ideas
- Flexible working hours and possibility to work remotely
- Great location at Columbia University or Copenhagen Entrepreneurs Centre

Your tasks

Love cracking complex challenges? Welcome!

- Build and bind our frontend and backend services together and monitor, test and continuously optimize your designs
- Plan, design and shape responsive web solutions
- Plan, design and build an effective speaker database
- Preferably work with Wordpress, modern JavaScript coding, testing, debugging and automation technique to build our website

What you bring to the table

Want to work with your favourite technology and implement your craziest ideas? You should enjoy

- working independently and proactively
- thinking beyond and outside your tasks
- have a business mind-set
- have excellent analytical and problem-solving skills, and capable of communicating your ideas clearly

A degree in Computer Science or a similar area are a bonus. We are impressed by the thoughtful design and effective code of your previous projects.
